

Wengen, November 1, 2023

Wengen Männlichen Cableway

Summer season 2023

The Wengen-Männlichen aerial cableway can look back on a successful 2023 summer season. The 2022 summer season was already a record year, which the 2023 summer season has surpassed. Never have so many royal ride tickets (rooftop) been sold as this summer. The growth was supported especially by the guest mix, with a higher share of international individual travellers.

Männlichen family mountain

Männlichen is a rewarding excursion destination for the whole family. Even the ride on the cable car is an experience with impressive views of the Alpine chain around the Eiger, Mönch and Jungfrau. The end point of the cable car is not far from the mountain inn. The 8.5-metre-high giant cow is also waiting to be discovered in winter. The children's ski paradise is also available with various beginner lifts for young and old. New attractions at our Alpine Herdsman's Playground and the Liselotte trail, which has been extended with a treetop path, mean even more fun!

"Royal Walk"

The "Royal Walk" leads from the mountain station of the Männlichen cable car (2222 m above sea level) to the summit at 2345 meters above sea level. From there, you can enjoy the majestic panorama and the royal view of the Eiger, Mönch and Jungfrau. There is also a panoramic view all the way to the other end of Switzerland. If you pull your sledge up to the summit, you can then enjoy a fantastic descent back down to Männlichen.

New Pistenbully with new garage

To offer perfectly groomed slopes and top winter sports conditions, an old Pistenbully has been replaced with a new one. In addition, work on the new diesel refuelling system for the snow groomers continued throughout the summer. From this winter, the Pistenbully can now go straight to the pump and no longer must be refuelled by hand.

Outlook for summer 2024

It is planned that the Gemel (a type of summer sledge) will operate again in summer 2024, offering another experience on the mountain. The route is 0.63 miles long between Männlichen and the Holenstein middle station. You can return comfortably by cable car.

Caption:

- 1) Skier Männlichen
- 2) Männlichen children's paradise
- 3) treetop path
- 4) Royal Walk
- 5) Pistenbully