Thyon Region.

Slow life.

Thyon-Region is a sunny holiday region located on the western slopes of the Val d'Hérens in central Valais, not far from the capital of Sion, at an altitude of between 1,500 and 2,100 m. Thyon is particularly well adapted to the needs of skiers and is the eastern point of the immense "4 Vallées" domain.

The resort of Thyon-Region is particularly suitable for family vacations, offering many holiday apartments and a beautiful panorama of the Bernese, Valais and Vaud Alps, dominated by the famous Matterhorn and the majestic Dent Blanche, which rise to over 4,000 m.

The Grande Dixence dam - the highest gravity dam in the world and the largest in Europe - is also visible from here. And for more subterranean pleasures, you can also visit the nearby underground lake of St-Léonard also the biggest of its kind in Europe.

Thyon is spread out on five levels reminiscent of balconies, each with a breath-taking view of the region's magnificent 4,000 m peaks. Located at an altitude of 1,600 m, Les Masses is the first balcony and home to the first ski lift station in the resort. The Collons sector with its three balconies at 1,800 m, 1,850 m and 1,900 m begins a little higher up, while the highest point accessible by car is Thyon itself at 2,000 m.

Best of all, the three floors of Les Collons, as well as Thyon 2000, offer "ski-in, ski-out"!

Region Dents du Midi.

The swiss accent of the Portes du Soleil.

The Region Dents du Midi encompasses six charming villages nestled high in the Swiss Alps near the south eastern end of Lake Geneva. Aligned along the spectacular Val d'Illiez, these villages form the Swiss half of the Portes du Soleil, the world's largest international ski area, offering over 800 km²/308 mi² of natural beauty all year round.

No matter the season, this is a place of exhilarating peaks and inspiring views, where the border between France and Switzerland has all but disappeared and your backyard stretches as far as the eye can see. This might sound cliché, but there really IS something for everyone in this magnificent region.
